President.

CHOLERA NOSTRAS.

Dr. Surmann has given the Board of Health his professional opinion that the disease lately battled with was cholera nostras and not Asiatic cholera. Nevertheless, cholera nostras being contagious the Board of Health did well to take stringent measures for its suppression. It might be said also that, if Dr. Surmann's diagnosis is correct, the reason is not diminished for placing and maintaining the town and port in good sanitary condition, also for keeping up constant vigilance against the use of unsound food and impure water. Dr. Surmann says that the disease is caused by the ingestion of specific organic poison, and its symptoms are like those of arsenic poisoning as well as of Asiatic cholera itself. It would be folly in the absence of indisputable evidence that this was Asiatic cholera brought by the steamer Belgic, to put forth a lay opinion upon Dr. Surmann's diagnosis. Whether he is right or wrong the disease was feared and fatal enough to be the cause of perpetual precautions against its recurrence in the community. Upon the mere supposition that he may be right, then the theory may be equally correct that the discharge of the harbor dredgings at Liliha was one of the primary causes of the infection. It is fervently to be hoped that this theory will not be confirmed by an outbreak of sickness when the muck of Nuuanu creek begins to flow upon the marshes of Lele. It is understood that the discharge will be treated with disinfecting material. No small quantity of such, however, will be availing to render the mass innocuous.

OBSERVATIONS.

Dr. Surmann's diagnosis of the cholera will be found in full in this paper. It is the most interesting document of the epidemic.

The hunted Armenians have bearded the lion in his lair. They have demonstrated that the worm will turn by raising war in the streets of Constantinople. The bloody traces will call the world's attention to their wrongs more loudly than even Mr. Gladstone's oration notes. It is said the head of the "sick man" is sore, and his heart faint, since the bold break of the Armenians under his palace windows.

St. Johns isn't in Nova Scotia. Neither is St. John nor St. John's. The city mentioned by the Advertiser as a convenient base for recruiting "Nova Scotia wood choppers" as filibusters to invade Hawaii is only about a thousand miles from the bluenose province. It is very much French, however, and it mightn't be a bad idea for the Planters' Labor & Supply

Company to send an agent to that vicinity for labor, as the habitants are to a great extent poor but very tough and industrious.

As the Star has stated that Johnson, formerly engineer on the dredger, denied that he signed the letter with charges against Capt. Smith, the fac simile of his signature is here given:

W. R. Johnson

If this is not Mr. Johnson's signature it is welcome to call and leave a genuine one.

SAMOAN ITEMS.

Clipped and Condensed From Our Apia Exchanges.

The chiefs of Falelatai, on the demand of the Supreme Court, sent up this week two natives who had been engaged in criminal actions some time ago. The prisoners were tried on Friday and sentenced each to 6 months in jail. The action of the Falelatai chiefs is a healthy sign, and such as may be highly commended.

A Young Men's Institute has been established at Apia.

There is a deficit in the Samoan Treasury, but a strenuous effort is being made to cover up the transactions and men involved.

No one can be found to take the vacancy of City Councillor of Apia, and the Samoan Times says the town is dead both financially and politically.

The centenary of the London Missionary Society was celebrated at Malua.

Chief Justice Ide has rendered an important decision in the matter of the Polynesian Land Company's claims which seems to suit everyone concerned therein.

Trade is very dull and merchants all wear gloomy faces.

A sentence of short imprisonment has been passed by the Imperial German Consular Court against the partners of a late firm in Apia for careless book keeping in connection with their business.

THE MARIPOSA DEPARTS.

Consul-General Mills is One of Her Passengers.

Promptly at noon the steamship Mariposa cast loose from the Oceanic dock, and is now well on her way to the coast. Very few people were on the dock and there was no excitement of any kind. The band was not present on account of the death of Major Dane on the up trip.

Consul-General Mills, with a big volume of consular reports under his arm, was one of the last to go on board. He was accompanied by Minister Damon and Vice-Consul B. yd. Mr. Mills has been in poor health for some time past and takes a trip to the Eastern States for a change. He expects to be gone about six weeks.

GOOD BROTHER JOHN DEAD.

An Identity of Honolulu for Nearly Half a Century.

Brother John, messenger for the Catholic Mission and Convent, died this morning at 10 o'clock, aged 81 years. His full name was Francis Pellett, and he was born in Belgium on Sept. 2, 1814. He arrived in Honolulu on April 28, 1848, since which time he has occupied the position mentioned above. Brother John struggled manfully to hold on to duty, notwithstanding the infirmity of age, until two weeks ago, when he was compelled to give up his good and faithful service. There has been no more familiar figure, or one with more kindly features, on the streets of Honolulu. He was humble, useful and faithful, and none knew him but to be his friends, as he was friendly and courteous to all with whom he came in contact. Many residents were deeply affected, some shedding tears, when they heard of the death of the old man, whom all Honolulu has known for nearly half a century. Brother John's funeral will take place from the cathedral at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A FAREWELL PARTY.

An Enjoyable Gathering on Wilder
Avenue Last Night.

A farewell party was given to Miss Maggie Sharpe, who leaves for Kauai next week to teach school, at the residence of her parents on Wilder avenue last night, which was a very enjoyable affair. The evening was spent in music, dancing and singing, the piano playing of Miss Alice, the young Australian pianist lately arrived here, adding much to the pleasure of the occasion, as did Mr. Peterson's zither solos. Among many vocal solos Mr. J. F. Scott's rendition of the comic monologue, "The Wax Works," must be mentioned.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Scott, Mrs. S. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sharpe, Misses Nellie Rice, Alice Rice, Mitchell, Lampman, Reynolds, and Lily, Florrie and Grace Sharpe, and Messrs. Peterson, Williams, D. Crozier, Thompson, Waldron, Myers, Harold and Robert Sharpe and George Manson.

Ice cream and other refreshments were served.

POLICE COURT ITEMS.

A Che-fo Dealer Gets a Heavy Fine—
Other Items.

Jack Kane who was yesterday convicted of maintaining a nuisance in the shape of a vicious dog was fined $25 and $4.70 costs this morning.

Ab Kee, a Chinese truant, arrested at the request of his mother, was sent to the Reform School for the next two years.

Sang You, for selling fish outside the limits of the market, was fined $5.

Keawe, convicted of maintaining a lottery game, was fined $150 and $3.30 costs.

The trial of A. P. Ryan, on the charge of larceny comes off tomorrow.

The rest of the morning session was occupied with the trial of Makaimi for selling liquors without a license. The prosecution closed its case at noon and the defense will take up the afternoon. The case is being bitterly fought by the able counsel engaged.

Died at Sea.

Major Henry C. Dane, the well-known lecturer, died on board the Mariposa on October 15th and was buried at sea. His widow will stop over at Honolulu in consequence. Major Dane's death has cast a gloom over the passengers of the vessel and his wife has their profound sympathy, as well as that of the community. The late Major Dane delivered a series of lectures here in the early part of 1887. He was an able speaker and his lectures on the American war were graphic in description.

There was another meeting of Japanese held last evening for the purpose of assailing the measures proposed at the previous meeting.

Judgment in the insurance case between John Emmeloth and John Cook, amounting to $1278.19, has been paid and the plaintiff is correspondingly happy.

Judge Ogden of Oakland recently gave a young married woman some good advice when he refused to grant her a divorce. The couple had been married three years and were quite young, but they evidently got along about as well as most married people do. However, the young woman thought she ought to have a divorce and filed a complaint against her husband alleging cruelty. The specific facts set forth were that her husband frequently slapped her, whether playfully or not the complaint does not state, and that once he spoke crossly to her. This, however, was while the husband was putting up a stove, and therefore cannot be wondered at. On another occasion the young wife says her husband threatened her, but in answer to the Judge she explained he had only told her the proper thing to bring her under subjection would be to raise a family. But this poor husband's greatest offense lay in his feet. He had big ones according to his wife, and on one occasion he had the audacity to place them in her lap, and she said, "he had his boots off."

In refusing to grant a divorce on such trivial testimony Judge Ogden gave the wife a little fatherly lecture. "You can hardly expect the court to grant you a divorce upon such testimony. If we were to grant you a divorce upon that showing there would not be a couple in Oakland that would not be entitled to a divorce. It is impossible to find human nature that is ideally perfect. There are many little imperfections that education and association will smooth off, and married people must exercise forbearance and patience. Instead of widening the breach close it up. A young couple such as you are will find married life a very happy existence if you will return to your home and not do just what you have been doing heretofore."

That Oakland Judge had some sense, indeed it is apparent that his wisdom arose from experience. It is a pity there are not more like him. If there were there would be fewer divorces and more happy homes. What is home without a mother-in-law and the privilege of putting your feet on your wife's lap without putting your boots on first.

All of which reminds us of another little story. By the steamer Australia we have received one of the largest consignments of hardware ever landed on these fly specks of the Pacific. It comprises an assortment of plated ware, ideal coffee pots, three and five-thousand gallon tanks, steel wire cloth, flour sifters, blacksmith's bellows, wire mats, cutlery, feather dusters, hoe handles, California lawn sprinklers, lanterns, shovels, rice plows, bath tub enamel, Diston's No. 2 cane knives, mill saw files, sole leather and assorted goods such as varnishes, patent water closets, paint burner's, Hendry's mixed paints, hose in all sizes and qualities, metallic paint in oil and shooting coats.

We have also received a fresh shipment of "Tribune" and "Monarch" bicycles, with lamps and fittings of all kinds.

All of the above goods are on the wharf and may be shipped to any port of the islands.
